

2017 CABERNET SAUVIGNON

DESTINY RIDGE VINEYARD COLUMBIA VALLEY

Destiny Ridge Vineyard has silty loam soils on the north side of the Columbia River, east of where the rugged gorge begins to round out. The location receives constant wind and is perched several hundred feet above the river. The combination of soil and windy conditions keeps the canopy of the vineyard short, which leads to concentrated, thick-skinned Cabernet Sauvignon berries. Our small-lot approach retains the dark berry and spicy fruit flavors while layering in considerable texture that allows this wine to age gracefully in the bottle for many years. 167 cases produced.
