No. 7: Amaterra - Portland, Oregon

Portland's newest winery features a 45,000-square-foot building and 12-acre vineyard with an outdoor event lawn, wedding venue, tasting room and Pacific Northwestern-inspired restaurant, just a short drive west of downtown. Amaterra expects to produce 10,000 cases of wine a year, primarily pinot noir and chardonnay, through their patent-pending gravity-fed production facility that guests can view while tasting wine.
